Ricardo grew up, and lives, in the Toronto, Canada area with his family. He is a leadership, communication, and collaboration expert. As an award-winning author, speaker, trainer, and coach, Ricardo serves clients worldwide.

Ricardo is the author of the book, 'EMBRACING LEADERSHIFT - Extraordinary Results Through Enhanced Communication and Collaboration'. He is the founder and managing director of Advanced Leadership, a learning and performance company based in the Toronto area that helps entrepreneurs, educators, corporate leaders, sales professionals, and motivated individuals, to achieve extraordinary results.

Ricardo is uniquely qualified to talk about leadership, given decades of experience in business and corporate world leadership roles. He also has an almost insatiable appetite for learning and sharing. Ricardo has studied with the one of the world's most highly ranked and internationally recognized leadership and management development experts, John C. Maxwell, and is an accredited coach and speaker for the John C. Maxwell organization.

Ricardo has had many titles, including financial planner, bank manager, sales trainer, communications consultant, national business development coach, and communications specialist, to name a few. Over the years, Ricardo has helped thousands of employees, and clients, become more successful at work, home, and in the communities they serve.
