LEARN ABOUT OUR FEATURED SPEAKERS

DR. PETER JÜNI

is an internationally-re-nowned epidemiologist and as the Scientific Director of the Ontario COVID-19 Science Advisory Table which has been informing the government's response to COVID-19, has been often quoted by the news media. He'll be discussing the pandemic, what we've learned and where we go from here.

JENNIFER WRIGHT

Jennifer Wright is the Executive Director of Communications for GM Canada, responsible for leading the Company's profile and reputation in Canada and the media relations strategy for its brands — Chevrolet, Buick, GMC and Cadillac. Her team of communications professionals is helping to achieve GM's vision of zero crashes, zero emissions and zero congestion.

DR. DAWN LAVELL HARVARD

Dr. Dawn Lavell Harvard, Ph.D., is a member of the Wiikwemkoong First Nation on Manitoulin Island, the first Aboriginal Trudeau Scholar, and a former President of both the Ontario and Canadian Native Women's Associations. After fulfilling her promise to see the National Inquiry into Missing & Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls initiated in October 2016, Dawn left her role as National Leader to become Director at the First Peoples House of Learning at Trent University. As president of the Ontario Native Women's Charitable Foundation, she raises funds to support Indigenous women's education.

TODD SIMKOVER

Todd Simkover has a M.A. in Critical Disability Studies from York University. He is an autism researcher and consultant focusing on post-secondary education and the labour market through a neurodiversity lens, and an emerging motivational speaker, author, and blogger. He is driven by his own lived experiences on the autism spectrum.

FARIDA NEKZAD

A defender of women's rights and freedom of expression, Farida Nekzad is Director of the Center for the Protection of Afghan Women Journalists. She's a co-founder of Pajhwok Afghan News, and since 2003, has trained some 2,000 journalists and students. Following the Taliban takeover, she fled Afghanistan with her daughter and is now a Journalist-in-Residence at Carleton University in Ottawa.

ABOUT OUR BREAKOUT ROOMS

KIRK JOHNSON ON SUSTAINABILITY
