message from the district governors

Please join us to “Celebrate Our GIFTS to the World” at our joint District Conference 2016 at Mystic Lake Conference Center in Prior Lake. This is going to be a party you won’t want to miss. There will be something for everyone, including a Polio Golf tournament on Thursday afternoon, with a reception/party to follow. On Friday, enjoy two outstanding keynote speakers: Ross Bernstein, author of The Champion’s Code, and Chris Heeter from the WILD Institute. Topping off the conference Friday evening is Stevie Ray, stand-up comedian and entertainer. Our “Done in a Day” service project will include cutting, sewing and packaging feminine hygiene kits. Along with great breakout sessions you can plan to stretch, grow and enjoy awesome fellowship.

Bring your family! We look forward to seeing everyone. It will truly be a celebration!

highlights

Golf Tournament to End Polio, at “The Meadows at Mystic Lake”... Shotgun start is at 11:00 a.m. with two format options (play your own ball or scramble) ... brief program and awards at 4:00 p.m. Golf tournament cost is $150 with proceeds to PolioPlus.

Ross Bernstein, inspirational speaker and best-selling sports author of almost 50 books, will share insights from his book, The Champion’s Code.

Done-In-A-Day Service Project: You can help cut, iron, sew, and assemble parts for 450 feminine hygiene kits for Days for Girls during any breakout session. Join or sponsor a sew-a-thon in advance to prepare materials.

Chris Heeter with her dog, Tuu Weh, founder of The Wild Institute, believes “Being Wild at work means having the courage to bring the gift of who you are to what you do. That means showing up whole, creative, free, engaged, connected, and bold.”

Breakouts Extraordinaire: Choose from 30+ topics focused on Rotary, technology, health & wellness, business, and life.

Stevie Ray, co-founder and executive director of Stevie Ray’s Improv Company, will entertain us and remind us to give the gift of laughter in our everyday lives.

Hall of Friendship, will showcase great ideas that you can use in your community.
